

Decision Narrative Planning

Name _____

Describe the setting where you made the decision	Swimming pool. Summer. Band camp. After practice and lunch. Hot day. Crowded pool
The people who were with you as you were deciding	My best friend Steve. Some other new friends – can't remember names. Will make them up. Stephan
Things you and people around you were doing	Playing stupid pool games. Maybe Marco Polo or something similar. Sharks and minnows. On shoulders
Things you and people around you were talking about	Probably about the girls in the camp, which ones were cute. Probably about the game we were playing, who got “caught”
The decision you're writing about	Try to show off and do an inward dive off the high diving board.
What people around you said about the decision and options	Steve thought I was being stupid for just trying to show off. I think he was jealous because he couldn't get the guts to dive off the high dive
Two or three options you had from which to choose
Why you chose the option that you chose
Two or three things that happened immediately after the decision
The reaction of those around you
Longer-term consequences of decision
Looking back on it, how you now view the decision
What you learned from the experience
